THEY LIVED ON GARBAGE.

ANGEL'S CAMP, Cal., April 12.—The dam of the Utica Mining Co., three miles from town, broke yesterday. Fifty feet of the north wing gave way, and the volume of water it had confined rushed toward Mokelumne, bearing with it the body of one man and fragments of buildings. The man was Otto Lundt, who lived with his sister on Antonio Creek, below the reservoir. He was nearly 80 years old, yet when he realized the impending danger instead of fleeing he returned to the house in quest/ of 700 and some jewelry, representing the wealth of himself and sister.

Lundt had scarcely entered when the frail structure was picked up by the on-rushing flood, battered to shapeless ruins, carried along and scattered for miles upon the shore of the flere stream. Of the unfortunate Lundt nothing more was seen.

The loss cannot now be estimated. It was understood that the construction of the dam cost about $40,000, but the claim of the company now is that its loss will amount to about $70,000.

"The boy was cruelly whipped, as the marks on his body plainly show. The fight marks on his body plainly show. The fight for which he was whipped occurred after class and some distance from the school and did not warrant a whipping, much less a thrashing of that sort. I think that an example should be made in this case, because a good deal of that kind of thing is done on the quiet. When I showed the boy's bruises to Mr. McClain and Mr. Spinning they said they would not believe such a thing possible if they did not see it. President Brockman is inquiring into the case."

statement, as he had called Mr. Hersog to his office and intended to make a close investigation.

A reporter called on Mr. Hersog at his school to give him a chance to explain his action. He said:

"Those boys fought four times Monday and Tuesday. I separated them twice in the yard. Each time they came together the other 700 boys in the school cried 'fight! right!' and one of the teachers told me that the tumuit raised Tuesday evening was a disgrace to the neighborhood. I did not punish them for the first three offenses, but after the fourth I decided to punish them. I called them to my office and gave Stiegemeyer three blows with the whip. Then I gave Gleason three and then Stiegemeyer three. I gave Gleason three blows a second time also, and then I gave sech of them five blows, whipping Stiegemeyer first. Each boy got eleven blows. It is foolish for Gleason to say I struck him in the face, for I acted with perfect deliberation. When the boys came to my office the faces of each were discolored from their coats I knew that the blows would leave blue marks. I had to do something of that kind, for when I suspend boys their parents send them back, telling me to whip them."

NEW YORK, April 12.—News comes from Germany of a great American discovery for the cure of consumption and cancer. The discoverer is Dr. Louis Waldstein of New York, a brother of Dr. Charles Waldstein, the archaeologist.

York, a brother of Dr. Charles Waldstein, the archaeologist.

The treatment consists of injecting minute doses of pilocarpine, a crystallized extract from the Brazilian jaborandi plant, until the lymphatic system is stimulated and the white corpuscies of the blood overcome the poisonous particles which produce the disease. This in a sense completes the celebrated "Hell serum," acting favorably on patients whom the serum does not cure. Dr. Waldstein's researches have gone to the fountain whence these healthful white corpuscies spring, and by enlivening its action and productiveness restores the condition of the blood, destroying poisonous germs.

The importance of the discovery is thought to be beyond those of Pasteur, Koch and others.

Dr. Waldstein has been in Europe for four months. None of his friends hers know anything of his discovery and no account of it has been published in any medical journal in this country from abroad. The information comes from Consul-General Dekay at Berlin, in a note to the State Department. The report closes with a statement of a case of lupus of twenty-two years' duration, regarded as incurable, which was relieved immediately after the first injection and is now almost healed.

LANDS FOR THE HOMELESS. PRACE SEEMS

made on the authority of Congress and the Governors of the States and Territory and in the interests of the colonisation scheme which Mr. Snythe is promoting. There were no purchasers in the audience of 50, but the meeting aroused an enthusiasm which, it is hoped, may result in the securing of land and homes for some seventy destitute families in Puliman, and enough more from the city to make up a good-sized emigrating colony. The meeting was called by the Home-Seekers' Association, which is composed largety of clergymen of the city, but the audience showed that the labor element was greatly interested.

Mr. Smythe is in the city for the purpose of forming a local colony to join the new Plymouth colony, forming in Boston under the leadership of Edward Everett Plymouth colony, forming in Boston under the leadership of Edward Everett Hele, which is expected to move West in August to take up and irrigate lands in Utah offered by the State Government, Collateral to this colonini clubs are to be formed for the securing of information on the subject of Western settlement for those who desire to emigrate. The whole movement has been instituted as a solution to the problem of relieving the increasing congestion of the population in large cities.

The Rev. John Rusk, pastor of the Fullerion Avenue Presbyterian Church, Secretary of the Home Seekers' Association, pres ded and introduced Mr. Smythe. Mr. Smythe space briefly of the objects of the colonization movement. The issue, he said, before the American people to-day is the making of new homes on agricultural lands. In reality it is the creation of a new civilization. In brief, he explained the Carey law, by which five of the Western States have set aside 1,000,000 acres of sirid lands for the purpose of irrigation and cultivation. These lands are to be disposed of at low rates and every inducement is offered those who are willing to endure the brunt of hard work for a few years. In irrigation, Mr. Smythe said, les the hope of making the town of the soid and the start the raising on a single farm of hearly everything a family needs. He founded a State on industrialism organized with the best preventive of city congestion—the farm village. The Mormons have taken $562,900,-600 out of the soil, with an annual income for each family of 10,000 farms of $1,355."

Mr. Smythe made comparisons between the Mormons and the people of Pullman. The former were landed proprietors, with increased values accruing to them, and every man a participator in the banking system. The latter were hopeless tenants, with increased values accruing to their employers and compulsory patrons of corporation banks and stores.

Mr. Smythe said $500 capital would take a family to the West, pay for the irrigation of forty acres and sustain them until the first crop. If families had no money they might mortgage the lands in advance, and an effort was being made to secure funds for this purpose.

The Rev. Carwardine of Pullman made an appeal for help for the seventy Pull-man families who wanted to get away. Their plan was to go south, he said. M. H. Madden of the Typographical Union also news of the definite conclusion of peace may be expected at any time.

The exact terms of the peace cannot as yet be ascertained, but it is understood that in response to the repeated requests of the Chinese plenipotentiaries for an abatement of the demands originally made by them, the Japanese plenipotentiaries have granted some concessions.

Brief as the foregoing official message is, it marks the close of the Japan-China war, barring the possibility, of course, of some unexpected hitch at the last moment.

The announcement of the exact terms of peace is yet to come, but from what is known of the negotiations thus far the general nature of the peace is evident. It was officially announced yesterday that the terms being insisted upon were as follows:

First—Independence of Corea.

Second—Permanent cession of the Island of Formoka to Japan.

TO MURDE THEIR SISTER.

Mrs. O. Ellwanger's Brothers Accused of Inciting Her Husband.

MARRIED TO THREE MEN.

Strange Developments Growing Out of the Murder of a Woman at Crown Point, Ind.

CROWN POINT, Ind., April 12.—What at first appeared to be a rather ordinary and bungling murder committed by a drunken insband at Crown Point, Ind., promises to develop into a sensational and psouliar case. Instead of being a practically unknown Bonemian woman, the victim turns out to be he sister-in-law of ex-County Commissioner-Michael Wasserman of Chicago, and he wife-undivorced—of about three men. Her husband, with whom she was living sere, Otto Eliwanger, it is thought is either fugitive from justice or has himself been nurdered, while the woman's two brothers re locked up, practically charged with initing the husband to murder their sister. A ster written by Raph Bechtell of Philadelphia, Pa., was found near the body of he murdered woman. The writer (Bechnil) reveals that the woman has been marked twice before, and offers to help her in ase she should get into trouble over her tarriages, first to a Mr. Gregg and then to Ilwanger. There are plenty of people tho believe that the missing husband, Otto Ilwanger, did not murder his wife, and as iany more who think he has himself been urdered. He bears the character of a articularly peaceable man, There are evinces that more men than one went to the Ilwanger farm Tuesday morning. The pose have offered a reward for Ellwanger's pprehension.

PERRY SAVED HIS LIFE.

The Daring Train Robber Objected to Killing Carmody.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., April 12. POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., April 12.— Watchman Carmody of the Mattewan In-sane Asylum, from which Oliver C. Perry and the other convicts escaped, thinks he owes his life to the train robber. He says that when seized by Perry, Quigley and Mc-Guire he struggled and cried out, when they stuffed a cloth in his mouth and choked him. McGuire, he says, cried, "Kill him," but Perry said, "No, don't; all we want is to get out of here."

erry said, "No, don't; all we want is to get ut of here."
The train robber is a man of wonderful erve and daring.
Every attempt to get upon the track of lerry and his gang of escaped convicts had ailed up to noon to-day. Supt. Allison has avestigated vague rumors that have come to him from various localities, but not one has resulted in any tangible clue.

Perry's attempted robbery of the money are of the American Express Co.'s special on the New York Central road on the morning of Feb. 21, 1892, was one of the most sensational on record. The train drew out Hibbett, surgeon of the Bennington, now at Syracuse at 5 o'clock on the morning of b. 21. Near Weedsport Conductor Emil ass hearing the air whistle sound faintly tout on the front platform of the day ach on the rear end of the train, and sunting the rail, peered through the bell and hole into the express money car justed. There he beheld a man wearing a i fiannel mask. Lasss at once set the brakes and called his two trainmen to be platform. When they leaned out and ared along the side of the car the robberick his head out of the side door and fired areal shots at them, warning them to mait the engineer to go ahead or take the needuences. Conductor Lasss, after invecting one of his men to get off. go back stuck his head out of the side door and fired several shots at them, warning them to signal the engineer to go ahead or take the consequences. Conductor Laass, after instructing one of his men to get off, go back to Jordan and telegraph to Rochester that there was a train robber aboard, signaled the engineer to go ahead at full speed. He thought the robber would not dare jump and would be captured at the next stop. At Port Byron the train stopped, and the conductor and his men went to the express car. It showed signs of a desparate struggle. Money packages and jewelry were scattered about and Messenger McInerney was lying almost unconscious bleeding from several wounds. Perry was not to be seen. When Lyons was reached the station was alive, the news having spread all along the line. A well-dressed young man, wearing gold eye-glasses and cartying a satchel slump by a strap over his shoulder, was noticed in the gathering. The trainmen recognised him as a party they had observed at the station at Syracuse, and the question of how he got to Lyons immediately arose. They attempted to seize him, but, drawing two revolvers, he held back the orbwd until he had backed across the yard to a coal train. He mounted the engine of the coal train, first pulling the pin coupling it to the train, and then he, driving out engineer and fireman with his revolvers, started to bridge and engineer and fireman with his revolvers, started to buildets into the cab of their engine as it passed. Then the pursuers stopped and he again went ahead, shots being exchanged as the two engines passed each other. No-body was hurt in either exchange.

Two miles further Perry, finding his steam nearly exhausted, abandoned his engine and started across the country. He made a farmer let him have a horse, and, two miles ruther south, procured a horse and cutter rom another farmer.

ones, delaying in hopes they would reach Lyons and the man could be captured before he secured any booty. The robber disappeared, however, before Port Byron was reached.

It was learned afterward that the robber was Oliver Curtis Perry, and he admitted having committed the Utica train robbery the preceding September, securing $5,000 in cash and a lot of valuables. Perry is now 28 years of age. He is 5 feet 6 or 7 inches tail and weighs about 120 pounds. Although born in New York State, he served some time in the West as a cowboy. He is a natty dresser, always wearing kid gloves. At times he has posed as a religious revivalist.

Perry was sentenced to forty-nine years in Auburn Prison. For drawing a knife on Bender, a fellow convict, in October, 1892, he was confined in his cell in the basement tier. Perry dug through the walls of his cell into that of a convict tailor named Emens, which was unlocked, and secured the liberty of the corridor. At 5 p. m. he was missed, and a search of the prison was made for him without result that night. Next day, however, he was found hid in the prison.

STEVENSON'S LAST WORK.

MSS., Including His "Masterpiece," Brought by Mr. Baxter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 12.—Charles Baxter, whom Robert Louis Stevenson named executor of his will, has arrived in this city from the Samoan islands. He has named executor of his will, has arrived in this city from the Samoan islands. He has with him the manuscripts of Stevenson's last works, which he is taking to England for publication. Of the unpublished work left by Mr. Stevenson, Mr. Baxter has already sent on home for publication the manuscript of "St. Ivea," a novel which was almost completed, lacking only about two chapters, which will be published as it is. The story is of the capture and escape of a French officer during the Napoleonic war from a prison in Scotland and his adventures in that country and in France.

Mr. Baxter also has with him the proofs of what will be entitled the "Vailima Letters," This is a series of monthly letters written by the novelist to his friend, Sydney Colville, keeper of the prints at the British Museum. They are a journal of his life in Samoa, sent off once a month. Mr. Baxter likewise brings a manuscript of what Sievenson had written of "Weir of Hermiston," the work he was engaged on at the time of his death. In fact, he had worked on it the very day of his death. This, he thought, would be his masterplece. Only about a third of it had been written, but that is complete as a part, and will be published. Besides these, there is a small book of fables and letters to children. These are mostly letters written to his young heir, Austin Strong, by Stevenson's estate, according to Mrs. Baxter, will probably prove to be worth $100,000 to $155,000. The most of this will be from profits from his books, but a share of it will be from the estate of his father, the famous light-house keeper. The Stevenson place at Samoa consists of $00 acres. Mr. Stevenson might have been considerably richer, but he kept open house in Samoa. Every needy person was welcomed, and in that country it costs a great deal to maintain an establishment, especially when one does not live as the natives do, but in British or American ways. This is the statement of Charles Baxter, the executor of the estate.

HAS REVIVED THE OIL FEVER

Effect of the Remarkable Advance in Crude Petroleum.

PROSPECTING, FOR WELLS.

Not Less Than $6,000,000 Now Being Expended in New Work in the Oil Fields.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 12.—Since the extraordinary movement in the oil market this week from $1.17 last Saturday to $1.30 yesterday, with a het advance of 52 cents, the oil fever has revived and men are in the field day and night looking for possible developments.

Some idea of the activity in field operations may be had when it is stated that on April 1 the number of new wells drilling and rigs in course of construction was 1,401.

and rigs in course of construction was 1,401. The monthly average of new operations last year was only 222, and the total number of wells completed was only 3,548 for the entire year.

Whether the present search is successful or not there will be an enormous amount of money spent in prospecting. The cost of drilling a well ranges from $1,200 to $9,000. Estimating the present number of new operations at 1,500 and the cost of each well at $4,000, it is seen that not less than $6,000,000 is now being expended in new work in all the fields.

The total production of gold in the United States last year was $43,000,000. The production of all for the same period was 48,500,000 barrels, which at to-day's cash price represents a value of $72,500,000. This quantity fell short 6,800,000 barrels in supplying the demand, which was drawn from old stocks, reducing the latter to less than 4,000,000 barrels on April 1.

Within the past few weeks the Standard Oil Co. is estimated to have purchased $3,000,000 worth of territory from individual producers.

Jump of 24 1-2 Cents.

TOLEDO, O., April 12.—Ohio crude oil jumped up 24 cents this morning. North of Lima, is quoted at 11.07; South of Lima, 11.05; the Indiana, 37 cents. The entire Ohio field is going wild, and intense activity in putting down new wells is the result.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS. Sixth Annual Convention in Session at Knoxville. KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 12.-The sixth KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 12.—The sixth annual convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor is in session here in the First Methodist Episcopal Church. About 100 delegates are in attendance. The session will continue until Sunday night. Dr. Clark, the father of the Christian Endeavor movement, is here. A chorus choir of 200 voices, under Prof. E. O. Excil of Chicago, furnishes the music. The programme of the convention comprises addresses by some of the leading Christian workers in the country.

ON THE INSTALLMENT PLAN. Strikers Who Obstructed the Mails Can Pay Their Fines.

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., April 12.-In the United States Court, Grant Mason of Barnesville was found guilty of obstructing the mails during the great Northern strike last April. His conviction was followed by last April. His conviction was followed by the conspiracy case against seven Barnesville men. Mason, James E. Knowles, Robert Nelson, Thomas Pender, Fred H. Atkins, Charles Millieux and Fred Rath pleaded guilty to obstructing the mails.

Judge Nelson said that the offense had been committed during a time of great excitement; that oftentimes employes had just grievances against corporations and other employers; that they had a right to organize to advance their own interests, but they could not transgress with impunity the laws that Congress had passed for the protection of all. He had no doubt that they regretted their course, and, therefore, would not give them the severest penalty. He sentenced each to pay a fine of $100$. Sentence, however, was not to become operative till moved by the District Attorney. The effect of this is to allow the men to pay their fines in institutions the not payunishes the participants in a hazing, but holds the officers of the institutions responsible.

Mr. Merriman's "anti-Catholic" bill was called up in the Committee on Education and Mr. Merriman made a long speech upon it. William J. English, a Chicago lawyer and ardent Catholic, appeared in opposition, saying that the Catholic Church pays taxes on all property not used for church purposes. The Episcopal Bishop was vested with the same power of holding property as the Catholic Archbishop of Chicago. The committee, at the request of Mr. English, made the bill a special order for Wednesday noxt, when a delegation of Catholic laymen will be here from Chicago to oppose the measure.

Both houses adjourned to dead over to next Wednesday morning. No business of importance was transacted.

SENDING CATTLE TO MARKET. Stockmen Taking Advantage of the Advance in Meats.

SANTA FE, N. M., April 12.-An advance of about 25 per cent in the price of beef cattle in the last sixty days has served to greatly elate the live stock dealers of New Mexico. Mutton has also gone much higher. At the advanced prices, some four thousand cars of cattle will be shipped out over the Atchison during the next six weeks. In 1894 but 500,000 cattle were on the ranges of New Mexico, but during the past year every stock man has been saving his stock, and this year the number reported for taxation is 1,250,000. Experts say at least 1,000,000 head of meat cattle are now on New Mexican ranges, of which 250,000 are ready for shipment. The sheep in the territory in 1890 were 1,500,000, in 1894 they numbered over 2,000,000. It is thought the number now is about the same as in 1890.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 12.—Mr. Jones

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 12.—Mr. Jones of Greene County proposes to end the long-standing contention between Cook County standing contention between Cook County and the country districts by practically making a separate State out of Cook County. Yesterday he introduced a joint resolution providing a constitutional amendment which will give the county of Cook a separate Legislature, a separate judicial system and its own charitable penal and educational institutions. His plan gives Cook County no share of the State funds, except a proportionate share of the revenue derived from the Hilinois Central Railroad and of the fees of State officers. The Cook County Legislature is to consist of seventeen Schators and fifty-one Representatives. The County is to be represented in the General Assembly of the State, as at present, but its members are to sit only during the election of United States Senators and the impeachment of State officers. The laws passed by the Cook County Legislature are to be approved by the Governor, unless passed by a two-thirds vote. The members from Cook County are outspoken sgainst the scheme, and the resolution seems doomed to defeat.

The Senate passed Hamer's bill to punish hazing in institutions of learning. The bill not only-punishes the participants in a hazing, but holds the officers of the institution responsible.

The report comes from the house of his friends that Col. Wm. R. the start.

The Post-Dispatch has credited the committee with the intention to make a real investigation, but this change of plan is not reassuring. It strengthens the distrust of the committee's bona fide intention which has been prevalent in both Springfield and this city. Chairman Campbell and his associates have made it harder to get results by their change of plan, but they may be able to repair their mistake by returning to St. Louis if necessary after securing a solid foundation of information on the Illinois side.

A MASS MEETING CALLED.

Responding to a well-defined public sentiment, Messrs. Marcus Bernheimer, Adam Boeck and John Grether have headed a call of citizens for a mass meet-ing at Chatsworth Hall next Thursday ening, April 18, to put into operation the Detroit plan.

Mr. Bernheimer is just the man to star the work along the right lines. His prac-tical business knowledge, his philan-thropy and his familiarity with the eco-nomic conditions of St. Louis render his leadership in this matter helpful and praiseworthy.

The Post-Dispatch has expressed its confidence and manifested its interest in this movement by devoting much space to the enlightenment of the people upon the details of the plan. It is now satisfied that its efforts will bear fruit And the citizens who participate in the meeting at Chatsworth Hall, and espe-cially those selected to carry out the plan, may rest assured of the confinued and enthusiastic aid of the Post-Dispatch right through to the end.

There will be no scarcity of helpers in this work. Vacant lots and money for seeds and implements will be forthcoming whenever the committee of supervision and management is announced. The time has come for subscriptions and the Post-Dispatch will acknowledge any that may be sent in.

A NON-PARTISAN ELECTION BILL.

The great advantage of the co-operation Public Safety Committees of St Louis and Kansas City in framing a non-partisan election bill for adoption at the extra session is that it deprives the Legislature of all excuse for a cry of partisanship.

The requirements of a fair election law have been so clearly pointed out by the Post-Dispatch that there is no room for argument concerning them. We need small precincts of not more than 300 with the destruction of old registration books and papers; precinct registration revision and posting; safeguards agains either partisan or bi-partisan manipula tion of election offices. All that remain to be determined is the machinery carry this programme into effect. The for partisan advantage between the two

If the House, which is Republica frames an independent bill and deter-mines to stand upon it, and if the Senate which is Democratic, frames an inde-pendent bill and determines to stand upon it, partisanship will be thrust in and all legislation may thus be again defeated. The real attitude of the members of both houses towards election reform will be bill presented by committees equally ditage for either side.

THE TRUST PINCH.

The charge that the greater part of the advance in the price of meat is due rather to the rapacity of the meat combine than to scarcity of supply is borne out by the facts. The New York World estimates from the best available statistics that the supply of beef cattle is 2,000,000 less and of sheep 6,000,000 less than a year ago. This s a falling off of about 6% per cent in the cattle supply and about 15 per cent in eep supply. But from actual quotations gathered in the market the Post Dispatch has shown that the price of meat has advanced from 25 to over 50

The difference between the shortness of the supply and the largeness of the advance represents the meat combine's rake-off on public disaster. The scarcity of meat from drouth in a period of de pression, a great misfortune in itself, i made a greater misfortune by the crue greed of a trust which uses the scarcity as an opportunity to corner the market and squeeze excessive profits from help-less consumers.

The poor families who pinch closer to get a little meat to maintain strength for toll or those who go without meat because of its dearness suffer not only because of unavoidable disaster, but because of the rapacity of a trust which profits by disaster. There could be no better illustration of the viciousness of the trust system and the need of its suppression by law.

THAT FORGED LETTER.

The Post-Dispatch submits to-day additional information of the greatest interest and importance concerning the forged letter of instructions purporting to come from Recorder Higgins, under which the judges of Precinct 1 of the First Ward changed a Mundt majority into a Cronin majority. The letter is declared to have been written on the stationery of the Re-corder's office, and to have had his officorder's once, and to have and his om-cial seal and signature. It was handed to School Director John P. Collins, who was one of the Democratic judges at that pre-cinct, and who says he burned the letter. cinet, and who says he curried the letter. The forgery, according to this testimony, must have been accomplished with assistance inside of the Recorder's office. The act of School Director Collins in destroying a letter which was the warrant for reversing the previous instructions of the Recorder is inexplicable, except on the theory that he knew its fraudulent charand was privy to the conspiracy.

If this ally of the Gould bridge monopoly had not buncoed the city, if there were excellent public reasons for granting the franchise, if it had not been rushed through the Municipal Assembly in its closing hours, it would yet be grossly improper for the Mayor to sign the ordinance in view of the fact that it carries no compensation for the city and a law has been passed by the Legislature compelling the sale of franchises at not less than 2 per cent of the gross receipts. A Mayor who had the public welfare at heart would have declined to let such a manifest effort to beat the nubite succeed. But this act was in line with Mayor Walbridge's record. He cannot point to a single act in his official dareer in which he has acted as the bulwark of the people against either the corporations or the against either the corporations or

He asserts that there are times when it is impossible to secure fresh and palatable supplies and that the rule requiring bidders to furnish samples to the institutions has never been complied with. Not only fraud, but gross inof stale supplies to a hospital. The expo sure of crookedness in the city supply contracts cries out for investigation.

Ex-Gov. Wilson's report of the feeling in West Virginia may sound like exaggeration, but there can be no doubt that the silver sentiment is very strong. He says: "If a Democrat were to be named on a free silver ticket there against a Republican gold bug, they would never get through counting the votes. If the conditions were reversed, and a free silver Republican pitted against a gold bug nocrat, there wouldn't be a grease spot left of the Democracy."

To the Editor of the Post-Diapatch.

In your paper of yesterday reference is made to my "unexplained" opposition to the passage of the bill for the Benton and Blair statues: also, there is a statement that Mr. Filley ordered the defeat of the bill. If Mr. Filley ever took such a stand I never heard of it. On the contrary, before the passage of the bill in the House a communication from him was published in the Star-Sayings and circulated at the Capital, urging the passage of the bill and recommending statues of Benton and Blair, not only at Washington, but at Jefferson City.

As to myself, my reasons for opposing the bill were publicly stated in the committee—I think your reporter was present—and were 1. Why Workingmen Avoid Churches.

To the Editor of the Post-Diapatch:
Your interesting statistics and editorial of last Sunday showing how the bulk of the population are non-churchgoers were doubtless read with interest by thousands of your readers, as they were by the subsoriber hereof.

The question will naturally arise in the minds of many as to the reasons for this lack of interest in the churches. In my opinion the chief reason is that the working people at large have lost confidence in the preachers. If there was more preaching of a practical sort and if the daily lives and mode of living of the preachers was more in harmony with the teachings of the mesk and lowly Jesus whom they exhort their hearers to imitate. I think the percentage of churchgoors would be much greater. If

FRED SCHOENNING, 234 Clark avenue.

In last Sunday's issue of the Post-Dispatch, in an article on the election frauds committed in the First Ward, a scheme was exposed by which a recount was obtained in the First Precinct and a majority for Mundt transformed into a majority for Cronin. This was accomplished by means of a letter of instructions purporting to come from Recorder of Voters Higgins, in which judges and clerks of election were told to count for Cronin ballots where his name was left open twice, but not to count ballots where Cronin and Mundt were both left unscratched.

As explained in Sunday's Post-Dispatch there were four columns in the First Ward ticket—first, the Democratic ticket with the name of Cronin as one of the nominees, then the Republican ticket, the Socialist-Labor ticket and in the fourth column the name of Cronin appeared alone under the head of "Nominated by Electors." To mark the ballot correctly every column had to be scratched except the one to be voted. Some Republican voters failed to scratch Cronin's name in both places, while some Democratic voters left it open in both places, All such ballots were foul, and, under the instructions of Recorder of Voters Higgins should have been thrown out. The count proceeded under these instructions all day, and before the last box was counted Henry Mundt had a majority. About 6 o'clock Ed Butler visited the precinct and learned the situation. Something had to be done and that quickly. There was a whispered conference, and in a few minutes Butler drove away.

Half an hour later a letter was received, ostensibly coming from the Recorder of Voters, reversing the instructions previously received. It was a double-barreled order. Where Republicans had marked a ballot wrong it was to be rejected. If a Democrat had omitted to scratch Cronin in both places the vote was to be counted for him.

There has been some wonderment as to why the judges received, without suspicion

There has been some wonderment as to why the judges received, without suspicion of its genuineness, a document in which the Recorder completely reversed the verbal instructions given. That even the Republican judges felt obliged to act on it is not surprising in view of later developments. The Post-Dispatch reporters, who first discovered that the letter was a forgery, did not fully learn at the time how complete it was.

gery, did not fully learn at the time how complete it was.

It has already been told how the letter was typewritten and signed in writing with the Recorder of Voters' name. It now appears that it was written on the stationery of the Recorder, inclosed in one of his official envelopes, and, more than all, it bore his seal. In signing the credentials of officers of election Mr. Higgins uses a rubber stamp fac simile of his signature with red ink. The bogus letter was so signed, so that the letter bore every evidence of being genuine. A fac simile of the signature follows:

To make it more binding the letter was delivered by a man who impersonated one of Mr. Higgins' deputies. Every effort has been made to discover the identity of this man, but so far in vain. At least eight men saw the letter delivered, and as many more saw the man enter the polling-place. All of them can give a good description of him, and would know him again, but none can be found who know his name.

When the man entered the polling places he advanced hesitatingly and inquiringly as though in doubt as to whom to deliver the letter addressed "To the Judges and Clerks." As soon as he saw John P. Collins, one of the School Board, his air of hesitancy left him. He became a man with a purpose, and going straight to Mr. Collins he delivered the letter to him. Mr. Collins says he does not know the man. The man evidently knew Mr. Collins showed the letter to his col-

Mr. Collins. Showed the letter to his col-leagues, the vote was re-counted, transpos-ing the result and carrying the precinct for Cronin, and Mr. Collins put the letter in his cronin, and Mr. Collins put the letter in his pocket.

When the question of the authenticity of the letter was first raised, two days later, and the last possession of it was traced to Mr. Collins, he said he had kept it till the evening before and had then burned it.

Mr. Collins as very severely criticised for destroying so important a document, not only by his fellow-judges, but by Recorder-of Voters Higgins, who is personally concerned in the iesue. "It is a strange thing," said Mr. Higgins, "that a letter reversing completely all previous instructions should be destroyed. I don't understand a man doing such a thing. Here is an alleged letter by authority of which a re-count of the vote is made. I should think the judges would preserve that to warrant the recount they made. They say now it bore my seal and signature. When I ask for the letter I am told it has been destroyed. It's mighty queer."

Mr. Higgins does not believe the letter and signature. When I ask for the letter I am told it has been destroyed. It's mighty queer."

Mr. Higgins does not believe the letter bore his seal. As for the use of his printed stationery he can account for that because any one could have taken a sheet of paper from one of the tabs lying around in his office, without attracting any attention. Mr. Higgins is certain that his seal was not used that day for the purpose. Mr. Faudi, his Chief Deputy, said that the seal was locked up in the safe all afternoon of election day. Mr. Higgins was in the office from 5 o'clock until late at night, and he says no one even asked for any additional instructions. More than that, he was in the First Precinct once that day, and the question was never raised.

The theory has been advanced that the work was done by the connivance of one of the special deputies employed up till the day of election. It is supposed that the paper was prepared in advance so as to be ready in case it was wanted. It would not have been so difficult during the busy days before the election to affix the rubber stamp signature to a sheet of paper, and to impress it with the seal. Mr. Higgins thinks it likely that a notary's seal, was used to give the document an official appearance. It is possible that the judges did not examine the seal very closely, and took it for granted that it was the official seal, but they say it was the Recorder's seal. There were about sixty-five deputies employed before the election, a large number of whom were let out ofter the election. It is thought the trick was turned by one of these.

From those who saw the man who impersonated the deputy the following description was obtained: Height, 5 feet 7 inches; weight, about 145 pounds, gray eyes, brown hair and thin blond mustache. He was dressed in a light gray mixed tweed suit, light brown overcoat and light Fedora hat.

WILL SELL THE LEASE.

THIS BEAUTIFUL EASTER

Sanford Investment Co. to Realize on Their Olive Street Investment.

The Sanford Investment Co., which recently leased for ninety-nine years the prop-erty on the north side of Olive street adjoining the alley just west of Pope's The-joining the alley just west of Pope's Theater building, and extending to within twenty-one feet of the corner of Tenth street, at an annual rental of 312,500, is now about to close the lease out for cash to Eastern capitalists.

Blackwelder & Holbrook, reality agents, who have charge of the property, leased it to the Sanford Investment Co. a month ago, with the additional privilege of buying it outright for $300,000. The company, it is reported, will buy it in and sell it to the Eastern men.
The property consists of three-story office buildings, cheaply donstructed, netting the lessees $14,000 per annum. The representative of the probable purchasers is stopping at the Planters' Hotel, but beyond the fact that he acknowledges that he is interested in the deal he will say nothing for publication.
Mr. Holbrook of the firm of Blackwelder ested in the deal he will say nothing for publication.

Mr. Holbrook of the firm of Blackweider & Holbrook said that he expected to close the deal in the next few days. He was not pleased to learn that the contemplated deal had become public.

"The Sanford Investment Co.," he continued, "leased this property, intending to sell. In reality the lease was nothing more than an option, as the clause permitting them to purchase was inserted in the papers. They will either purchase the property and turn it over to the Easterners or sell the lease."

Deed of Trust for One Million. A deed of trust for $1,000,000 has been made out by the Sanuel Cupples Real Estate Co. on its buildings on Seventh and Spruce streets in favor of the New York Life In-surance Co. The deed extends over a period of ten years, bearing 5 per cent interest.

Manufacturing Property at a Song.

Quite a valuable plece of business property, Nos. 119 and 121 Poplar street, occupying a lot 36 feet front, went at a song Thursday evening. Schlierholz & Reitz conducted the deal, buying the property for a client at $55.50 a foot. The fact that the names of the purchasers are withheld gives rise to a rumor that a syndicate is buying in property in that vicinity.

This is the first sale in this vicinity for many years, and it is causing considerable gossip. The locality is adapted to any kind of manufacturing business, as it is in close proximity to both railroad and river connections. The present improvements are comparatively worthless, which adds color to the report that a large manufactory is to be erected.

New Land Company Organized. Manufacturing Property at a Song.

New Land Company Organized. New Land Company Organized.

The Libby Land Co. has been formally organized at a meeting of stockholders in the office of B. M. Thompson. The following are Directors: Will N. Matthews, Albert Todd Terry, B. M. Thompson, Chas. Valler, W. Goddard and W. L. Clark. The Directors elected officers as follows: Will N. Matthews, President; Albert T. Terry, Vice-President; B. M. Thompson, Secretary and Treasurer. The first deal to be consummated by the new company will be the purchase of 1.007 feet of ground on the south side of Garfield avenue at a cost of $14.59 a foot. This was decided upon as a good investment. The property is in a popular residence district which is rapidly developing. But a few days ago 250 feet within a block of the proposed purchase sold at $20 a foot.

Westminster Place Improvements. Westminster Flace Improvements.

Hon. Seth W. Cobb is having plans drawn for the erection of three costly residences on the south side of Westminster place, between Newstead and Taylor. Thursday the Nicholis-Ritter Realty Co. sold to the firm of Seth W. Cobb & Co. a lot 153:145 feet. The property was sold in two parcels, one 65x145 to Mr. Cobb, and the adjoining lot, 50x146 feet, to Wm. T. Gardner of the firm of S. W. Cobb & Co., at 3150 per front foot. The property was owned by F. C. Case and was the only property in the place on the market.

Big Contract to Be Let.

Messrs. W. P. Quayle, F. M. Sinnet, T. M. Jenkins, F. A. Johnson, H. S. Case, J. G. Britton, J. Hasson and J. E. Maxwell, from Rock Island, Ill., are visiting in the city, the guests of the Builders' Exchange. The gentlemen are here to inspect various building material and intend to let the contract for the erection of a new Court House at Rock Island, to cost $125,000.

Ringling Brothers' Circus Booked for a Week's Stay Here.

Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows, which, it is announced, will play a week's engagement in St. Louis, beginning Monday, May 6, is a new show to this city, but elsewhere in the United States it is widely known and popular. It is a city, but elsewhere in the United States it is widely known and popular. It is a Western institution, and was originated eleven years ago in Wisconsin. Its proprietors are five brothers, all of whom are actively engaged in the management. The enterprise began in a small way, but has grown with remarkable rapidity, and Ringling Brothers' circus is now considered one of the leading institutions of the country. Although so little known in St. Louis, it is an immense affais. The management owns and operates four trains of cars; it has 400 horses; empleys nearly 1,000 people, and, under the great hippodrome pavilion there are seats for 12,000.

The performance is given in three rings and stages, in mid-air and upon a hippodrome track 1,100 feet long. The announcement is made that the show is an "old-fashioned circus brought down to date," and the list of arenic features carries out this idea.

Ringling Brothers' circus is now playing an engagement in Chicago at the big Tattersall Amphitheater. This immense building is peculiarly adapted for performances on an extensive scale, and the exhibition has attracted a great deal of attention. The verdict of the Chicago newspapers is that the show is of an extraordinary character and worthy to rank with the best combined circuses, menageries and hippodromes ever organized in this country. A feature of the show which is attractive is Liberati's Band. This musical organization, under the direction of Sig. Liberati, gives a concert prior to every regular performance. a concert prior to every regular perform-ance.

Proposition to Enlarge the Limits by a Half Mile. a Haif Mile.

Within the next sixty days, it is expected, the suburb of Kirkwood will be a half a mile nearer St. Louis than at present. The Town Board is discussing a proposition to enlarge the village limits half a mile east, north and south and there is little doubt expressed that it will be carried. Such a step will considerably increase the town's population, as the country round about Kirkwood in the three directions is quite thickly populated. Kirkwood is now six miles from the Western limits of St. Louis.

The Clearing House Rule Will Stand as Amended.

Regarding the recent modifications in the House check collection rule William H. Thompson of the Boatman's Bank and chairman of the Clearing-house Committee, said Thursday morning: "The modifications were made according to promise at the time the new rule was put in force. We anticipated friction and agreed that what changes were necessary would be made without infringing on the rights of the banks. We have smoothed off the rough edges and expect no further

laughed at the statements advanced that legal steps would be taken against the Clearing-house Association.

Local bankers are loth to further express displeasure with the Clearing-house rule. A statement was in circulation that the St. Louis National Bank was seeking legal advice on the matter of disregarding the rule and the right of the Clearing-house to expel them for so doing. Cashler Isaacs of that institution said: "There is not a grain of truth in the rumor. We voted for the rule and will maintain it."

George E. Dolton's Family Compelled to Flee From Fire.

The residence of George E. Dolton. Magnolia avenue, was gutted by fire at 1 a. m. The damage will amount $2,000. The fire started in the chicken shed, back of the residence and, owing to delay of the stream of water was available. The house caught after the shed had been burning half an hour.

Mr. Dolton's wife and six children had a narrow escape, as they little expected the house would catch fire. They were obliged to leave in their night clothes and all their clothing and household furniture is destroyed. Mr. Dolton suspects that the fire was started by chicken thieves.

FROM THE JAIL WALL

Two Men Jumped, Apparently Frightened From an Attempted Delivery.

About 8 o'clock Thursday night a passer-by reported to Sergt. Thomas Boyd of the First District that he had just seen two men leap from the top of the jail wall to the street and run south. He concluded they were escaping prisoners. Owing to the darkness he could not tell whether they were white or colored.

An investigation was instituted but no trace of the men could be found. Jailer Kraemer made a tour of the jail. Every prisoner was accounted for, and none of the locks, windows or doors appeared to have been tampered with. The impression is that the two men were friends of some prisoner and were attempting to aid him to escape, but were frightened away.

LUCAS SHIP REORGANIZATION.

New Deal in Which Some Old Stock-holders Are Frozen Out.

The Lucas Navigation Co. has be corporated, with Augusta Abbott, Adolph Winkelmeier, Leland F. Prince and Frank E. Dickie, one share each, and Mrs. Grace winkelmeler, Leland F. Prince and Frank E. Dickle, one share each, and Mrs. Grace

L. Davidson, 996 shares; capital stock, $10,000, all paid.

This is merely the reorganization of the Mississipppi River and Ocean Navigation Co. for the purpose of whying out the company's indebtedness. The company is now practically in a state of transition, and its plans for the future have only been partially carried out.

It is the intention to increase the capitalization to $200,000 and expend probably onehalf the amount in building a ship after the Lucas patents, to be laden with a cargo for Rio de Janeiro. It is the purpose of the company to send the ship down the Mississippi River and across the Guif and ocean to Rio in order to demonstrate the practicability of the Lucas ship.

It is the story of the reorganization of the company in which interest centers, however. John F. Cahill, ex-Mexican Consul, who was a stockholder in the old company to the extent of 124,000 shares at $10 per share, has been frozen out and is doing some lively kicking. The officers of the new company declare that the whole transaction was perfectly regular and every step was according to law. The company was confronted by numerous creditors, whom it was-unable to pay, and it became necessary in some way to meet the indebtedness or go to the wall.

In order to do this the creditors filed their claims with Henry E. Mills as trustee, pending a settlement. A deed of trust was filed at Washington and at the end of ten days the patents and rights of the old company were put up for sale and bought in by the new company. Among the claims against the old company were $2,000 for services as secretary by Mrs. Grace Davidson; $3,000 for profesional services as counsel by Judge T. J. Portis, and bills for advertising by nearly every newspaper in St. Louis.

Cahill, who had 124,000 shares of the old company's stock, it is said, was unable to meet his pro rata of the claims and could not ome in as a member of the new company, it is claimed that h progress made Attorney Actary 1. Said:

"We want a thoroughly non-partisan bill, one that will give no greater advantage to one party than the other, and when we have procured it, it will be known as the Safety Committee's bill. You understand perfectly well that if Mr. Filley were to prepare the best possible bill and introduce it, it would be called the Filley bill, and a partisan Republican measurej. If Senator Dunn were to introduce ever so good a bill it would be called a partisan Democratic measure. So we will draw a bill that shall be accepted as a non-partisan measure. So far, we have agreed only on the fundamental features—precinct registration, open to far, we have agreed only on the fundamental features—precinct registration, open to all, and the reduction of the precincts in size. As to the disposition of the Recorder of Voters we have not agreed. We hope to reach some solution of the difficulties which caused the defeat of all of the bills Defore the General Assembly.

"Yes, I know that is a difficult task, and in order to accomplish it, it will be necessary for both sides to make some concessions."

The Executive Committee is holding its ssions each afternoon at the Insurance schange, The consultations are conducted ivately, but Mr. Kent stated that as soon the bill is perfected it will be given to the bill cas the Safety Committee's bill, problement week.

CAUCUS AT KLETZKER'S.

Fixing Up a Slate for the New House of Delegates.

The House of Delegates organization cauus, set for Saturday afternoon at Kletzker's restaurant on Washington avenue, is likely to be postponed until Sunday, and to be held elsewhere. Some opposition to the selection of Tobias Mitchell for Clerk has developed among the workers, on the ground that Mr. Mitchell has never been identified with the local Republican organization, if, indeed, he is a registered voter. But this opposition is not expected to succeed in view of the manifest agreement of those high in authority in the two wings of the Republican party, that Mitchell is to have the place. If he is unsuccessful young Ed Martin, son of ex-Representative Thomas C. Martin probably stands the best chance. The Speakership is almost conceded to George Grassmuck, with John H. Becker, John F. Taubold and Louis C. Diekman closely tied for second choice. Adam Neibert of the Eighteenth Ward is the strongest probability for Sergeant-at-Arms. be held elsewhere. Some opposition to the the intention to perfect the plans of the new organization before the special session of the General Assembly, of which most of the Executive Committeemen are members, so that in the event of the continuance of the session into the summer the projected organization in detail might go on. The Executive Committee, he said, would lay out its work so as to avoid interference with the work of the Democratic State Committee. A part of the work to be attempted will be county and precinct club organization and the dissemination of literature. The organization will also attempt other and possibly more important tasks, of which Mr. Rothwell preferred not to speak at length until after the meeting

Gifts for Young and Old Specially Designed for the Season.

SWEETHEARTS AND LOVERS.

Many Odd and Attractive Things for the Youngsters, Including an Easter "Grab" Party.

Written for the Sunday Post-Dispatch. The sending of souvenirs to friends at Easter time is becoming a well-recognized custom. These souvenirs should in some way be typical of the season. To attain object is an easy matter in selecting something for children—there are so many Easter toys in the shape of cunning little rabbits, which, when wound up, bob their Many jewelers have adapted themselves gracefully to the Easter souvenir idea this year, by having jewel boxes made of colored velvets in the shape of an eg. In this way the idea of an Easter souvenir can be sarried out while the ornament inside the lox can consistently be one fitted to any occasion.

ox can consistently be one little to any coasion.
"Sweets to the sweet" is a timely suggestion at Easter time to the young man with sweetheart. Nothing is more appropriate and fitting than an egg filled with bonons. These can be as elegant and as ostly as the depth of the young man's sures and the warmth of his admiration fill warrant. Besides there is an opporunity for a nesting Cupid somewhere in he ornamentation which can suggest passion he, perhaps, dare not breathe.

In satin, handsomely hand-painted, these agg-shaped candy boxes are very attractive.

FOR BONBONS

A JAPANESE CANDY BOX.

But for children of larger growth a certain amount of discrimination should be used. Souvenir gifts of jewelry are greatly preferred by women when more than a trifling sum is to be expended. Here, however, it is just as well not to carry the Easter idea too much into practice. An Easter brooch representing a nest of eggs with birds. One has a rabbit perched on with a setting hen is very appropriate on Easter day, but where is the girl willing to wear such an ornament on the Fourth of fitting Easter shapes, make handsome decorations.

luxurious taste think they can't have too many of them. They emit a delicate perfume, and answer besides as handkerchief and glove cases and many other purposes long after Easter is past.

Men have been well remembered this year among the Easter novelities. This is to be remarked, because for so long they have figured more as givers than recipients at this particular season of the year. A signal instructed to pull it out of the shoe. At the end of each ribbon is a fancy Easter egg. It is opening the eggs and seeing what is in them which constitutes the most exciting period in the game.

Each egg contains something different. In one is a curious snake, which wriggles and squirms when it is put on the floor. Another contains a thry tea set; another a set of dominoes. One has a diminutive set of ten pins, and one a mechanical chicken, which hops as natural as in life, and one a top. This game is an importation from Germany and new this year, although nearly all children are familiar with the Jack Horner pie game, which is a similar idea.

EASTER PROGRAMMES.

Elaborate Musical Services in All the City Churches.

The churches of the city are observing Holy Week and, at the same time, prepar-ing for the celebration of Easter. Good Friday was marked by special services in the Episcopal and Roman Catholic and many evangelical churches.

The programmes for Easter are very elaborate. Many of them were published in last Sunday's Post-Dispatch. Others are as follows:

as follows:

First Congregational Church, Delmar avenue, near Grand, & p. m.: Organ prelude, "On the Coast." Buck; anthem, "Christ the Lord is Risen To-day." Wheat; invocation, scripture reading; hymn, "Coronation." prayer; solo, "I know That My Redeemer Liveth." Handel-Mrs. Black; Announcements, anthem, "Christ. Our Passover," Bartlett, Easter address, Dr. George; solo, "Resurrection," Shelly, by Miss Bevis; "Jesus is King," congregation; prayer and benediction; organ postlude, "March Pontificate," Lemmens. The choir consists of Mrs. S. C. Black, soprano; Miss Lucy Bevis, alto; Mr. Arthur Ravold, tenor; Mr. Walter J. Kempin, bass.
At Pilgrim Congregational Church the pastor, Rev. Dr. Burnham, will preach an Easter sermon from the text (1st Corinthians xv., $5): "How are the dead raised up, and with what body do they come." The auditorium will be appropriately decked with flowers. The following music will be rendered: "Christ Our Passover" (Haydn), "As It Began to Dawn" (Buck); duet, "The Magdalene," by Miss Thayer and Miss Burnham. Sunday school will be at noon. In the evening Dr. Burnham will preach on the theme, "Coronation of the Lamb, or the Ascended Christ Crowned." The music will include "The Resurrection" (Shelley), sopprano solo by Mr. Lahey and chorus, also an alto solo by Miss Thayer.

UP AGAINST ERB.

Galvin, the Slugger, Given a Dose of His Own Medicine.

Mike Galvin, assistant to Mike Murphy and Joe Churchill, the newsboy padrones, was vigorously chastised in the Second District Police Court Wednesday morning during the court proceedings. Chief Deputy Marshal Erb administered the punishment.
Ever since Galvin was appointed chief slugger of little newsboys by Murphy and Churchill he has carried himself with a hauteur and arrogance not justified by his prowess in encounters with those his physical equals. Wednesday morning he swaggered into the Second District Police Court and invaded Deputy Marshal Erb's private office.

who has no particular admiration for the bully.

Interlarding his reply with daths and vulgar, insulting epithets, Galvin answered that it was none of Erb's business.

That official thereupon selzed the bully by the scruff of the neck and started out of the office with him. Galvin's resistance increased Erb's anger, and, snatching up. a goodly hickory stick, he plied it vigorously across the latter's back, and if the blows fell short of the hoodlum's skull it was not Erb's fault. While Erb was engaged in this laudable performance the court proceedings were adjourned and were not resumed until, Galvin had landed at the foot of the outside steps.

"I'll lay for you," was Galvin's parting the outside steps. 'I'll lay for you," was Galvin's parting

"I'll lay for you, was Garries of threat.

An hour or so later Erb found Galvin." laying for him" across the street.

Off Bad Half Dollars. Deputy Marshal Fitzpatrick arrived this norning from McDonald, Mo., with Wm. Brooks, arrested for having and disposing of counterfeit half-dollars. Brooks was of counterfeit half-dollars. Brooks was taken before the United States Commissioner at Poplar Bluff, Mo., waived a hearing and was held in $1,000 bond. He will be confined in jail here until the Grand-jury acts. Brooks does not deny his guilt, but claims that he did not manufacture the "queer." He says a barber at McDonald, whose name is withheld, gave the coins to him at a small cost. Brooks succeeded in passing two of them and had five more in his possession.

RAILROAD TO LAUNCH THE

Work Before the Mass Meeting to Tell the Truth and Nothing Be Held Next Thursday.

ENTIRELY POPULAR PROJECT.

Means to Be Left to Those Who Will Attend the Gathering.

The meeting at Chatsworth Hall next Thursday night to launch the "Detroit plan" in St. Louis will be, essentially, a spontaneous movement of the people. N set programme for the meeting has or will be arranged, and the matter of putting the enterprise on foot will be left entirely the enterprise on foot will be left entirely in the hands of those present.

There is no doubt the result will be entirely favorable to the immediate inception of the project. The Post-Dispatch has aroused such interest in it that there is every reason to believe the attendance will be both representative and enthusiastic. The standing of the gentlemen who have signed the call assures this.

In addition written requests were mailed Friday evening to fifty ministers of St. Louis that they announce the meeting from their pulpits Sunday morning with a few words explanatory of the objects of the movement. All will undoubtedly comply. In order that the plan may be thoroughly movement. All will undoubtedly comply. In order that the plan may be thoroughly understood by those in attendance—and the attendance will not necessarily be limited to the male population—Capt. Judson Grinnell of Detroit, who had supervision of the entire enterprise in that city last year, has been requested by letter to send some word of advice and explanation of the plan, to be read at the meeting. There will also be addresses delivered by well-known gentlemen.

There is much to be done Thursday night, One matter will be the appointment of a committee for the selection of a number of well-known citizens to act as a commission to receive offers of the use of vacant property and assign such land to applicants. This commission may be selected at the meating as may he decided there. It is alproperty and assign such land to applicants. This commission may be selected at the meeting, as may be decided there. It is also confidently expected that enough will be subscribed at the meeting for the purchase of tools, seed and the like to set the matter going at once. The convention will not be under the direction or auspices of any particular organization or set of men. The call has been signed by all classes.

One of the signers, Mr. George Bullock, expressed the wish, in discussing the subject, that the Post-Dispatch act in conjunction with the commission that is to be appointed to the extent of receiving subexpressed the wish, in discussing the subject, that the Post-Dispatch act in conjunction with the commission that is to be appointed to the extent of receiving subscriptions and offers of land.

"I know that it would be asking a great deal," said Mr. Bullock, "especially in view of all that the Post-Dispatch has already done for the project, but if it would take this thing up and make it its own enterprise, as it did the Forest Park lake fund, in cooperation with the commission, it would insure its immediate success. The first thing, of course, is to have the commission appointed and to raise the money for the purchase of the implements and seeds. I think the latter can be accomplished by the Post-Dispatch more expeditiously than the money could be raised in any other way. The commission, I presume, will be arranged for at the coming meeting.

"The commission will then, no doubt, proceed to work at once with the sinews secured at the meeting. I myself think that a special register should be used by the commission and every application for the use of land looked into, with a view to ascertaining the necessities of the applicant and the land apportioned in parcels appropriate to the needs."

Another matter which will probably be arranged at the meeting will be that of securing a competent superintendent for the work, to occupy a similar position to that held by Capt. Grinnell of Detroit. The person chosen must be a man of practical knowledge of agriculture and capable of directing an army of men, as the numbers who will avail themselves of the project when it is once under way will be enormous. Judge John Grether, one of the signers of the call for the convention, is enthusiastic. "I shall attend the meeting and lend all my influence toward carrying out the plan," said he. "It is a splendid thing. There is any quantity of vacant land that could be used during the summer and any number of people who would be glad of the opportunity to till it."

LOTTERIES SMOTHERED.

Express Companies Can No Longer R ceive or Transmit Their Matter.

In view of the recent law enacted by Cor gress regarding lotteries and other kindred enterprises all of the large express compan les of the United States have given notice that hereafter they will refuse to receive ies of the United States have given notice that hereafter they will refuse to receive, forward or deliver any money or packages offered to them which they have reason to suspect to be in any way identified with such illegal traffic. Circulars containing instructions to this effect have been issued by the companies to their agents throughout the country.

The new lottery law was passed in the closing days of the last session of Congress and approved March 2. It makes it a violation to introduce lottery tickets into the United States or to transport them from one State to another. The penalty provided is a heavy fine or imprisonment, or both, for the first offense, and for any subsequent offense the punishment is imprisonment alone.

Since the government put a stop to the use of the mails by the lottery people the express companies have done a thriving business in this line. Thousands of tickets have been received by them each month and forwarded to all parts of the United States. The money sent in payment for them has also been intrusted to their care. It has also been intrusted to their care. It has also been the custom of certain express companies, when the holder of a winning ticket resided in some part of the country remote from the headquarters of the lottery, to act as a collector for the lucky individual, viz.: receive the ticket, giving the owner a receipt, collect the money and return it to the owner, for which the company charge a regular commission. All that is now ended and, with no means at hand of circulating their tickets, lists, advertising matter, etc., the lottery business in this country has undoubtedly received a death blow.

When questioned on the subject all the local managers of the express companies stated that the new law met with their hearty approbation and would be observed by them to the letter. "Heretofore," said one superintendent, "being common carriers, we had no other recourse but to accept and forward any package that was offered to us without asking any questions. This new law

Concerning the tragic death of Wyman Scollay, who committed suicide in New York, Mr. Charles H. Wyman of this city to-day made the following statement:

"The published allusion to the character of Mr. Wyman G. Scollay is unjust because entirely untrue. Mr. Scollay has never been a dependent upon his parents, but on the contrary, has had steady as well as lucrative employment ever since he left here in 1879 (or thereabouts), having been continuously engaged by the firm of Woods & Co. of 35 Broadway, New York, or by the firm which Woods & Co. succeeded. His special work was the collection of material and the formation therefrom of reports used by the dry goods trade journals, and in this work was considered an expert.

"The cause of his sickness which immediately preceded his tragic death was overwork. Specifically, he had engaged to do extra work for his employers, for which he was the receive extra compensation. This Luttbeg Wants to Meet Walker. Ed. H. Croninger, member of the Racing board, says that Chairman Gideon, H. W. Robinson of Philadelphia and himself are the only members of the board so far appointed and he does not understand why the remaining members are not selected. Jaquish of Illinois was tendered a reappointment, but declined.

Max Luttbeg's backer is very anxious to hear from Bert Walker to find out whether the latter will live up to his promise to give Luttbeg a match. Walker does not seem to want any of Luttbeg's game, for he made no effort to come to terms with the St. Louis wrestler. Luttbeg's backers say Walker can come in at 160 pounds, if he wants to, and he will bet any amount that his man can throw him.

New York State has $87 applications for membership in the first issue of the new L. A. W. bulletin.

The Asbury Park wheelmen are asking citizens to contribute $10,000 for the entertainment of visitors to the National L. A. W. meet July $-15.

Tasac B. Potter says that it is only a matter of a short time before the League of American Wheelmen must take up professionals, and he is convinced that this will be done at the next meeting of the national assembly, if not sooner.

Chicago wheelmen want a law compelling dealers to report all wheels repaired to the police daily to prevent thefts. Bert Walker of Cincinnat threw Wm. Bibby of Chicago two out of three falls in Indianapolis Thursday evening.

The St. Louis Amateur Gymnastic Association will hold an open meeting at Uhrig's Cave this evening. There will be some good bouts between some of the boys who are entered in the coming tournament April 17, 18 and 19.

On account of the heavy rains at Burlington, 10., the championship shooting match between Carver and Hale was postponed until to-day. Ten matches of minor importance were shot Thursday.

Kid Lavigne and Jerry Marshall fought an eight round draw in Chicago Thursday evening. Lavigne outclassed his opponent.

positions, happily interspersed with the old favorites.

Among the new numbers are Svendeen's "A Parisian Carnival," "Pastoral Fantasia," by Kline, a descriptive piece of the shepherd's life in the Alps, and Sousa's own composition, "The Band Came Back," which is received everywhere with applause, and is one of the request numbers wherever it has been once played. The beautiful prelude from Humperdinck's "Hansel und Grete!" appeals to all musiculovers, and a very dainty minuet, "The Fly," by Czibulka, will be heard here for the first time.

Miss Marie Barnard, the vocal artist, and Miss Carrie Duke, the charming Kentucky violinist, are down for two numbers in each of the four concerts. On Sunday the band will also play a march composed by Arthur Pryor, the young St. Joseph musician, who is such a favorite here. It is dedicated to John Philip Sousa, and entitled "The March King."

AGAIN MOVED ON.

The regular season of the Western Base Ball League will be opened May 1 with Grand Rapids at Indianapolis, Toledo at Ground for Mashers.

A complaint printed in the Post-Dispatch of the mashers in Lafayette Park has brought retribution on their devoted heads. They will hereafter give heed to the numer ous "Keep off the grass" signs, and in addition, will patronize the gravel walks in a very circumspect manner.

The letter was noted by Chief Reedy, who immediately ordered that three police officers in citizens' clothes should be detailed to patrol the park afternoons and evenings. Their orders are explicit. Wherever they find a "lady-killer" forcing attentions upon an unwilling promenader arrest must follow. If in the effort to take him to the Sub-Station his coat is split up the back or he bruises his eye the matter will be counted against the officer as an unavoidable accident.

The officers have been instructed that, where they find young ladies show a decided willingness to be impressed by the "killers," they shall give them some fatherly advice.

It is expected that the move of the Police Department will free Lafayette Park of a class that has for some time kept respectable ladies and the little ones of their families away. ous "Keep off the grass" signs, and in addi-

FAITH CURE'S VICTIM.

Nellie Proesser Would Not Take Other Treatment Until Too Late.

Christian Science seems to have caused at her home, 3642 Gustine avenue, Thurs the death of Miss Nellie Proesser, aged 23, at her home, 3642 Gustine avenue, Thursday morning. She was a handsome girl, weighed nearly 200 pounds, and, although she had been sick fully three months, no medicine had passed her lips. She was a confirmed Christian Scientist, as were her parents, and firmly believed in the power of divine healing.

Mrs. John Appel, living on Russell avenue, between Jefferson and California, was the faith curist who ministered to the suffering young woman. In a lecture delivered before an audience consisting of probably 160 Christian Scientists at Dust's Hall, California avenue and Lynch street. Thursday night, Mrs. Appel said: "We will be blamed for the death of the girl. We are not to blame. She died of a broken heart."

Coroner Atkinson has been at work on the case for two days. He believes death was caused by pneumonia. The victim may also have suffered from dropsy. Had her case been taken in time and a good physician called, he thinks Miss Proesser's life could have been saved.

Dr. Schwartz, 1723 Chouteau avenue, who was summoned when all hope had fied, ordered the patient sent to the hospital, where she could be operated upon, but death ensued before the ambulance reached the house.

Frank Rhodes, Marcus and St. Louis av-sued before the ambulance reached the house.

Frank Rhodes, Marcus and St. Louis avenues, was very attentive to Miss Processer, and they are supposed to have been engaged but her mother interposed serious objections, forbidding the young man to come to the house. In consequence of this Rhodes and the girl met on the streets, and she frequently stood at the gate with him during the cold weather last winter. She took a severe cold, and gradually grew worse. She went to Dr. Upshaw, $510 Gravols avenue, but claimed he gave her no relief.

Three months ago the young woman refused further medical treatment. She at once took up the Christian Science fad, which her triend, Rose Wahlwend, $501. South Spring avenue, asserted had cured her of a serious illness. Miss Processer than went to the home of Mrs. Appel, where the faith cure treatment began. Her condition constantly grew worse until about two weeks ago, when she returned home. Her parents are Christian Scientists and up to the time the sufferer returned home the efficacy of the faith cure was never for a moment questioned.

cacy of the faith cure was never for a moment questioned.

During the last week of the victim's life her parents talked of calling in a practicing physician, but every time the subject was mentioned Miss Proesser refused and steadrastly held to her faith. At the last moment, when it became apparent she must die unless relief came quickly her faith falled her and she prayed that a doctor be sent for and her life spared.

Mrs. Ada Langford, 3640 Gustine avenue, and Mrs. James Marre, 3815 Potomac avenue, are friends of the Proesser family and assisted them in many ways. The dead girl supported the family by sewing, and the ladies referred to offered to pay all expenses if Mrs. Proesser would call in a physician and have her daughter properly treated, but the kind offer was declined. Christian Scientists urged the dying girl to hold steadfast to her faith up to the morning of her demise.

TROLL'S DEPUTIES.

Judge Murphy Disheartened by Their Ignorance of Common Matters.

Judge Murphy objects to the way Sheriff deputies manage the business of his Several times he has announced court. Several times he has announced from the bench that he could not understand why witnesses were not brought into court more promptly, and stated in strong terms that he did not want the business of his tribunal impeded in that way. When the case of Joseph Mathews, charged with criminally assaulting Ethel Bruce, was called, a Female Hospital physician, for whom a subpoena had been issued, failed to appear to testify. So the case had to be continued until Saturday.

"Do you know where the Female Hospital is?" inquired the Court of one of the Deputy Sheriffs present.

"No, sir," the latter repiled, "I do not."
On hearing this Judge Murphy turned to Prosecuting Attorney Mulvihill in disgust and said:

"Has this court any power to order the Coroner to serve its subpoenas?"
Mr. Mulvihili told him that it had no such power, except in special cases, whereupon the Court heaved a sigh and said the service would have to be improved some way.

MERELY A FAMILY AFFAIR.

But It Landed Frederick and John Zim mer in the Calaboose. Frederick Zimmer has been living with his wife and two sons in the rear of 1224 North High street about ten years. Almost all that time the neighbors have been regaled with the incessant quarrels of the family Last Christmas Zimmer took occasion to chastise his wife and, much to his astonish-ment, landed in the calaboose. He is there again with his son John to keep him com-pany, both awaiting trial in the Second District Police Court for disturbing the pany, both awaiting trial in the Second District Police Court for disturbing the peace.

The younger Zimmer, 17 years old, came home in a bad humor. His father was also in an ugly mood. He had just been beating, John's mother, and, while the process had afforded him intense satisfaction, while it lasted, it did not last long enough to satiate his appetite. Besides, his half-witted son Fritz had annoyed him during the operation, and when he had gone into the back yard and abused another man's wife, the other man had belabored him over the head with his fists.

So old man Zimmer, who has passed his fifty-fifth year, was in no state of mind to soothe John's spirits. Instead, he began a tirade and John, who had long since forgotten his fillial duties, picked up a chair and broke it over his father's head. Old man Zimmer sack to the floor with a groan and for a while it looked as if the son had become a parricide. Officers Maguire and O'Leary however, who had been drawn to the place by the racket, took the old man to Dr. Baer at 1016 Biddle street, who found that he was suffering only from a slight scalp wound. Then the officers placed, both under arrest.

TASHJIAN'S FLIGHT.

Search of His New York Rooms Reveals
More Stolen Property.

Detectives in all large cities have been requested to look for B. H. Tashjian, the Armenian salesman, who was until last Tuesday employed by Topakyn & Co. auctioning off a stock of rugs which the firm recently sent here from New York. Tashjian disappeared Tuesday afternoon and at the same time a bale of rugs valued at about $1,000 was also missed. The rugs were located at the depot, marked with Tashjian's name and his New York address. dress.

Mr. C. G. Story, who represents the New York firm here, states that Tashjian had been in the employ of the firm about a year. During that time a large number of valuable rugs have disappeared.

Mr. Story telegraphed his firm in New York of Tashjian's flight and the recovery of the rugs. He requested that Tashjian's recome in New York be searched. Last

"Well, I'll do that," said the good dame.
"I remember, now, you was always handy with the needle. Dinner's ready, and I'm going to blow the horn for Perkins and the hired man. Sit down, Phebe, and take pot luck with, ua."

After dinner Phebe set herself diligently to work to suit Mrs. Perkins in a new bonnet. Scarlet field poppies, black satin ribbon, and a frame covered with pured black silk, took the worthy woman's fancy completely.

"I never had a handsomer bunnit," said she. "There is real style to it. Eight doloilars? Of course I'll pay 18. Phebs! I expected to pay 10 in Linley, and this is sypanses.

"How foolish I am!" Phebe continued to sollloquise to herself.

Then she knocked at Mrs. Parthan's door, and asked leave to show her the new spring shapes in hats and bonnets.

A woman can resist anything but head goar. The fresh, gistening roils of ribbon, the box of birds' wings, the crisp roses and including in combining them—all these proved irresistible to these country folk, and ere long Phebe had sold out all of her stock, and returned to the city with a considerable sum over and above her separate.

"The Doctor Falkney was right," she said to herself. "Air and exercise are what I needed. I feel like another woman now-only it makes me feel had to think of never seeing Dr. Falkney's kind face again." Then she remembered, with a sudden crimsoning of the cheeks, that she had not yet paid his bill.

"Sut I can pay him now" she trought, "and the crimsoning of the cheeks, that she had not yet paid his bill."

roll down the street. "Just as soon as his office hours begin I'll go there. I won't wait for him to present his bill, but will get the start of him."

To Dr. Faulkney's great surprise, his first patient that afternoon was Phebe Clissold. "Doctor," said she, "I've cume to pay your bill out of the money that I've earned myself."

"Have I sent it in?" said he.
"No. But"—

A doman and so utterly friendless and test in the seems to rest one's hearing. A doman and so utterly friendless and test in the corner, if the prescription?"

When Dr. Falkney once made up his mind he was not long in acting upon it. He went that self-same afternoon to Mrs. Mrs. Perkins, holding the tea cady high above the shining teapot. Thebe had made up her mind what to do. "The be a travelling pedier," she told heritally in his office locking at the corner, and tapping his on the table. "Gone where?"

"Well, it's the queerest thing," said Mrs. Mynton, who sat at her everlasting mending-basket. "Didn't you know? She has gone away."

"Gone!" Dr. Falkney locked surprised. "Thebe had made up her mind what to do. "I'll be a travelling pedier," she told heritally in his office locking at the doctor, with a disturbed look. "I dare say it is as you say. It hope she will soon come home again."

I'hebe had made up her mind what to do. "The be a travelling pedier," she told heritally in the corner, and tapping his of the lafest style spring frames, packed to himself. "Part of my stock I'll cary in my brains and part on my arm."

That day, just as Mrs. Perkins, at Flock Centre, was setting her table for dinner, Phebe Clissold knocked at the door.

"My prescription?"

Dr. Falkney was a quiet, brief-spoken an of 40, and a bachelor at that. He had mactised medicine in the same location for n years, and never felt that any element as lacking in his life until now.

When Dr. Falkney once made up his mind he was not long in acting upon it. He went that self-same afternoon to Mrs. Mynton's and asked to see Miss Clissold.

But or this brisk Spring morning he at thoughtfully in his office looking at the urtain in the corner, and tapping his uler on the table.

Mynton's and asked to see Miss Clissold.

"La!" said Mrs. Mynton, who sat at her everlasting mending-basket. "Didn't you know? She has gone away."

"Gone!" IJr. Faikney looked surprised.

Dr. Falkney's black brows contracted. "And you let her go away like this?" said he. "So young, so lovely, and so inexperienced! Where were your maternal instincts Mrs. Mynton bridled a little,

"I don't see what maternal instincts have to do with it," she said. "She's no kin to me. Only Mynton's sister's child. And I've got four girls of my own to look after. And when's all come and gone, I've got no authority over Phèbe Clissold to stop or stny her."

pie? Mrs. Perkins, I think I shall stay and "And welcome," said the good woman.
"But I thought, Phebe, you had gone to your New York relations. You haint quarrelled with them, I hope and trust."
"Oh, no," said Phebe. "I never quarrel with anybody, Mrs. Perkins. But I've got my living to earn. Uncle Mynton isn't a rich man, and I can't be a drag on him. I tried life in a store, but it seems I wasn't strong enough for that sort of thing. So I'm going to strike out on a new tack. I'm a
